

Dulles to Join in Suez Canal Talks

Secretary Gets Travel Orders From President

Refuses Comment On Seriousness of Middle East Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles left by plane for London today to join British and French leaders in urgent consultations on the Suez Canal crisis.

President Eisenhower dispatched Dulles on the sudden trip after a 90-minute White House conference on the Suez situation. Dulles said he had had "no plan" to make the trip before this morning.

The secretary of state refused to say whether he carried any special proposal for coping with Egypt's seizure of the canal.

Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy is already in London conferring with British and French leaders on possible Western moves to counter Egypt's nationalization of the vital waterway.

Dulles went into conference with Mr. Eisenhower 10 minutes after the President returned from a weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

After the meeting, the White House issued this statement:

"In view of the importance of the matters being discussed in London between Foreign Ministers (Selwyn) Lloyd and (Christian) Pineau, the President has asked Secretary Dulles personally to take part in the concluding period of their talks, in which the United States also is represented by the Deputy Undersecretary of State (Robert Murphy)."

Lloyd is Britain's foreign secretary and Pineau is French foreign minister.

Dulles shrugged off all questions by newsmen as he left the White House by a side exit. He said only that the meeting was concerned with the new Middle East situation resulting from Egypt's nationalization of the vital canal.

Asked if he felt the crisis was serious, Dulles replied that "I would rather not comment on it."

The President flew to Washington this morning in his light Aero Commander plane, after a weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm. He landed at Washington National Airport at 9:03 a. m. CST.

BRITAIN ORDERS NAVAL MOVES IN MIDDLE EAST CRISIS

LONDON (AP) — The British Admiralty ordered "certain naval moves" in the Suez crisis today.

Egypt, meanwhile, sent diplomatic notes to all nations today promising not to interfere with Suez traffic. The notes affirmed that Egypt would obey the terms of the 1888 Treaty of Constantinople, which declared that all ships—including warships—are entitled to use the canal in war and peace.

At the same time, Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden cancelled plans to start his summer vacation this Friday and called in Sir Gerald Templer, chief of the Imperial General Staff.

In a one-sentence announcement, the Admiralty gave no indication of what moves were ordered. A spokesman told United Press only that the moves were connected with the Middle East.

Diplomats believed the moves involved a buildup of British naval strength in the Suez end of the Mediterranean Sea.

Shortly before the Admiralty announcement, however, the official Foreign Office spokesman made it plain that Britain was contemplating no action against three Egyptian destroyers now in British ports—two at Portsmouth and one at Malta.

He said there were no plans to "frustrate the movement" of the vessels, which Britain sold to Egypt last year.

Arthur Pitts Held in Jail in Connection with Burning Building

Arthur Pitts, 45-year-old native of Indiana who has been living near Beulah Heights at Eldorado, is being held in the Saline county jail in connection with the burning of a one-room building at the Eldorado city dump over the weekend.

Pitts, who made a living making and selling chairs, tables and stands, was accused by his sister and brother-in-law of setting fire to the house during an argument. He lived with the relatives, Terry and Rebecca Barnes, in the house, which was owned by Charlie Horton.

Deputy Sheriff James Lyon said that Barnes was looking after the dump, at the old O'Gara mine pond, for Horton.

Pitts' sister and brother-in-law told officers that Pitts threatened to burn the house and when he picked up a cleaver they ran from him.

Area Jobholders Dropped from Auditor's Payroll

Large Crowd at Grand Ole Opry Show at Fair

Western Horse Show, Frontier Days Tonight

A large crowd that filled approximately three-fourths the huge grandstand saw and heard Grand Ole Opry stars last night at the Saline county fair and another sizeable gathering is expected tonight for the Western horse show and Steele's Frontier Days presentation.

The Western horse show, which will include six classes has been set for 7 p. m. with Steele's Frontier Days to begin following this event, around 8:15.

The six classes of tonight's horse show are Western Equitation, Western Parade, Western Pony under 32 inches, Western Pairs, Western Flag race and Western Square race.

Steele's Frontier Days is a show with 25 persons, 25 horses and 25 unusual displays. The program will include trick and fancy riding, bow and arrow shooting and roping, and novelty circus acts.

There was a good response to last night's program, which brought Lonzo and Oscar, Judy Lynn, Wilburn Brothers, Radio Dot and Smokey, Pat Kelly and others to the stage in front of the grandstand.

Today was the first of two Kid's Days, on which children were admitted free until 5 p. m. with all rides a dime. There also was judging of livestock.

The Wednesday night program will begin with the Society horse show at 7, followed by a second presentation of Steele's Frontier Days about 8:15. The classes of the horse show will be: 3 gaited, open; 5 gaited, open; Tennessee walking mare; Tennessee walking stallion or gelding; show pony, hackney pony.

An afternoon show will be held Thursday, border collie sheep dog trials, and it will be another Kid's Day with free admission to 5 p. m. and carnival rides for a dime until that hour.

A big event will be held Thursday night—the annual Saline County Beauty contest at which Miss Saline County of 1956 will be selected from a score of entries, and the annual automobile show.

Big car races will be the Friday night feature.

Former Local Man One of Principals in Lonzo and Oscar Show

Jack Logan, a Harrisburg young man, was one of the four principals in the Lonzo and Oscar show at the fairgrounds Monday night.

Logan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Logan of 100 South Chaney, Harrisburg, was one of the stooges for Lonzo and Oscar, and attracted special attention with his handling of the steel guitar and his pantomiming of a hick-type character.

Logan has been playing a guitar since he was 12 years old, played on WEBQ and in other places in this area, once had a band of his own, played with Sunset Carson in Hollywood and with Cowboy Copas. He has been with the Grand Ole Opry for about six years and with Lonzo and Oscar for more than a year.

Logan married a Nashville young woman and they have a 3-year-old son.

Bobo Rockefeller Charges She Was 'Knocked Down' at Ex-Husband's Home

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller charged today she was "knocked down" by "henchmen" of her former husband, millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller, and held captive for six hours on his Arkansas farm.

The fracas Monday resulted in charges of disturbing the peace against Mrs. Rockefeller and her three New York attorneys.

Mrs. Rockefeller told the United Press of the charges in a telephone interview.

Rockefeller's attorney, Edwin Dunaway of Little Rock, denied that any "altercation" had taken place but Sheriff Marlin Hawkins said Mrs. Rockefeller and her attorneys put up a "fight" and behaved "rudely" when he and his deputies arrested them Monday night on Rockefeller's Winrock farm on Petit Jean mountain near Morrilton.

Bone of contention between the Rockefellers was their young son, Winthrop Paul Rockefeller, who has been spending the summer with his father on the farm. The

2,471 Acres of Saline County Corn in Soil Bank

A total of 2,471.3 acres of Saline county land has been placed in the corn acreage reserve of the government's soil bank program according to agreements turned in by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county office at the city hall.

The ASC office reported that 229 agreements were signed by Saline county farmers, who agreed to set aside the 2,471.3 acres for their corn planting. They will receive a total of $90,949.98 for letting the acreage lie idle from corn production.

The land owners, it was explained, draw their money on the acreage set back at the normal yield rate of each farm, with 93 cents per bushel paid on the established yield.

Those wanting to set aside wheat acreage will do so this fall, it was stated. Both corn and wheat acreage reserve agreements are for one-year periods.

Also this fall, conservation acreage agreements can be signed and put into effect. Under this part of the program, the acreage will be leased to the government over a period of years.

White House Associates Believe Stassen's Leave to Be Permanent

By LYLE C. WILSON

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of President Eisenhower's close White House associates hoped and believed today that Disarmament Counselor Harold E. Stassen has left the administration team for good. Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder announced at Gettysburg Monday that President Eisenhower had given Stassen four weeks leave without pay to conduct political activity. Stassen requested the member by invitation, although not by precedent.

The White House gang today is aflame with suspicion and dislike of Stassen. Some of them are confident that Mr. Eisenhower will find means after Stassen's leave at least to ease him away from the White House area toward some less prominent spot. Stassen may, of course, return to his desk and the payroll on Aug. 27, but the word today was that his number is up for ultimate action.

Grocery Clerks to Receive Pay Boost In New Contract

Clerks in all grocery stores under contract to Local Union 896, Retail Clerks International association, will receive pay increases of from four to six cents per hour in a new contract effective Aug. 12, Guy Price, RCIA business agent, reported today.

He pointed out the clerks will have a 45-hour basic work week, to be worked out in five and a half days. The old contract for the jurisdiction, which includes Harrisburg and surrounding area, expires Aug. 13.

Price also announced that clerks in other types of union stores will receive an automatic increase of four cents an hour Oct. 1, 1956. This was provided for the second year of a two-year contract in effect for one more year.

There will be only one local meeting in August, to be held at 5:30 p. m. this Monday, Price stated.

Drill Instructor Says He Received Same Training

McKeon Becomes Own Star Witness At Court Martial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon, on trial for leading a Marine recruit platoon on a "death march," testified today that he was trying to teach his men discipline so they would not "crumble when the chips were down" in combat.

The 31-year-old drill instructor, speaking out for the first time in his general court-martial, said that when he came to this boot camp as a recruit his own drill instructor gave him the same kind of training he used on his "lag-guard" platoon. That man was killed in Korea, he said.

McKeon became his own star witness in a drama that will live for many years to come in the annals and lore of the corps whose commandant said flatly is on trial here as much as McKeon.

McKeon's pretty wife, expecting their third child in a few weeks, was an intense spectator as the ramrod straight drill instructor took the stand and was led through the first round of a patiently calculated set of questions from his brilliant defense lawyer, Emile Zola Berman.

Were "Good Lads"

Speaking of his platoon, McKeon said "they were good lads."

But, he added in a calm voice, Recruit Platoon 71 lost its spirit and eagerness to learn to such a point that the senior range instructor called it "the worst disciplined platoon he ever had."

Last April 8, McKeon led 74 members of his platoon on a night march into Ribbon Creek. Six were drowned.

The defense contends night marches into the marshes and tidal waters of Parris Island have been standard practice in recruit training, even though they are not called for by the manual.

McKeon testified that when he went through training here in 1948 his platoon was marched into the water on several occasions. He said that in knee-high water they were required to flop down into it at the blast of a whistle simulating an air raid warning.

When the spirit and eagerness drained out of his own platoon this spring McKeon testified, he did everything he could think of to restore it.

Eden's Moscow Trip

Editorial — By BRUCE BLOSSAT

It is interesting that Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden decided so long in advance to tell Britain he and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd will go to Russia next May in response to Soviet invitation.

The move suggests that Sir Anthony feels it prudent to appease those political elements within his country which put supreme store by talks with the Kremlin, whether or not they ever accomplish anything.

Members of that political school, chiefly Labor party people, actually seem to find encouragement in failure. For they regard the collapse of each set of conversations with the Russians as powerful proof that a new set is required almost immediately.

It is the old story of reposing faith in the alleged magic of personal talks among heads of state. Millions seek escape from the burdens and complexities of a tense and troubled world. What more comforting than the thought that some pleasant, face-to-face chatting could lift their load?

The realities, of course, are somewhat harsher. Few conferences since World War II have produced any concrete gains at all. The most hopeful, the 1955 Geneva meeting at the "summit," contributed principally an improved "atmosphere" between East and West and a formal recognition of a nuclear military stalemate which already existed in fact. But the more cheerful atmosphere never was translated into specific new moves for peace.

The good will still is flowing, and with Nikita Khrushchev in charge, "flowing" is the word, but the Soviet Union has not made the slightest sign of moving toward a genuine settlement of outstanding world issues.

Naturally, as has been said again and again by realistic Western diplomats, we must always be receptive to overtures from the Kremlin. In the nature of things we can never be sure that the Russians will not at some stage decide to talk real business.

On that basis, and on the grounds that first-hand observation of the Soviet Union and its leaders is always instructive even when limited, Sir Anthony would seem wholly justified in deciding to visit Moscow in 1957.

But the trip would have been kept in better perspective if he had found it possible to delay announcing it until the event was much closer. That he spoke out now would seem to give us another measure of the prime minister's shaky political position at home. It is not a measure of the event's international significance.

Portugal—A

Friend in Need

At a time when Iceland talks of terminating U. S. bases on its soil, and political ferment endangers other American air sites in North Africa, it is pleasing and reassuring to read that tiny Portugal is about to place two key airfields at our disposal.

Portugal also will allow this country and its Western allies to strengthen their key base in the Azores islands some 900 miles to the west.

For all the talk of intercontinental bombers and guided missiles, we are not free yet of dependence on intermediate aircraft whose range demands bases much closer to the prospective enemy—in this case the Soviet Union.

When one set of bases is imperiled by political developments, we must of necessity seek another. We are fortunate at this moment to have gained the cooperation of a friendly Portugal.

Let us hope that in the future a cordial political atmosphere may be maintained between Portugal and the United States, since the duration of a satisfactory agreement on bases clearly hinges on continued good relations.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Eisenhower Gave Stassen Full Green Light On Gov. Herter; Sen. Johnson Twists Sen. Morse In His One-time Opposition To Democrats; Battle Over Duck-Baiting Ends Closing Days Of Congress.

WASHINGTON. — President Eisenhower may yield to pressure from the political harmony advisers around him, but when he first talked to Harold Stassen about Nixon, there was no doubt whatsoever that he knew expressly what Stassen was doing.

He gave the ex-governor of Minnesota permission to announce his anti-Nixon drive whenever he wanted to, made it clear he has never believed in preventing the Republican convention from making up its own mind on his vice-presidential running-mate, and told Stassen he had a perfect right to propose anyone he wished just as long as he spoke as an individual, not as a member of the "team."

Stassen was telling the absolute truth when he said that Eisenhower would be pleased to have Herter on the ticket. Ike thinks highly of Gov. Herter, also realizes Nixon will be a drag on the ticket. But the last thing Ike wanted to do was take the lead in dumping Nixon. He knew it would infuriate the Taft Republicans.

HAGERTY FUMES

The man who was sorest about Stassen's bombshell was Press Secretary Jim Hagerty. Jim, who is the most skillful public relations man ever to guide the publicity course of any president, had helped to plan the Panama trip to show the American public that Ike was well and vigorous.

However, Eisenhower himself spoiled this by confiding that he didn't have much strength, which of course took headlines.

Then just as the President was homeward bound, Stassen dropped his "dumb Dick" firecracker which took all the headlines away from Ike's Washington arrival. As he landed at Washington airport, not one question came from newsmen about the Panama conference.

Hagerty was fit to be tied.

Note — Another dramatic move will be made shortly to reassure the public on the President's health.

JOHNSONIAN HUMOR

Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Texas Democrat, has by no means always agreed with Sen. Wayne Morse, the new Democrat from Oregon. But he showed tact, charm and humor in paying tribute to Morse at a big $50-a-plate luncheon held to raise money for the Oregon senator.

"I'd be willing to come to Oregon to campaign either for him or against him," said Johnson, "whichever would help him most."

"When Wayne was a Republican," Johnson continued with a sly grin, "he came to Texas to campaign against me. He reminded Texans that under the constitution they were entitled to two representatives in the U. S. Senate, but had none."

"One of your senators, Price Daniel," Wayne told them, "represents the oil companies. The other senator Lyndon Johnson," Wayne said, "represents only himself."

Johnson went on to pay a sincere tribute to Senator Morse and his importance to the Democratic party.

DUCKS AND BLINDS

The question of duck-baiting and duck-shooting always makes the sparks fly in Congress, and the closing days of the 84th Congress were no exception. As the House of Representatives swung into a finish, GOP Congressmen Gross of Iowa and Pillion of New York made charges of malfeasance against Albert Day, former chief of the Fish and Wildlife Service, on the ground that he participated in baiting duck blinds.

They were given a unique answer by Democratic Congressman Reuss of Wisconsin, who invited them to repeat their charges off the floor of Congress where they had no congressional immunity.

Said Reuss: "This matter can readily be disposed of within five minutes after the conclusion of our remarks by the gentleman from New York and the gentleman from Iowa accompanying me to the hallway opposite the Speaker's office, where the privilege of congressional immunity no longer obtains, and in the presence of the press. I shall be delighted to convene, let them repeat any charges of criminality on the part of Albert Day."

"That will show if they have the courage of their convictions. Then we can get a square judicial determination of whether Albert Day is indeed a lawbreaker."

After the session adjourned, Reuss stepped out to the hallway opposite the Speaker's office and waited for his two Republican colleagues. Pillion and Gross did not show.

RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR BARRED

An interesting, unpublished incident occurred on the Adriatic Isle of Brioni when Tito, President Nasser and Premier Nehru of India conferred there recently.

The Russian ambassador tried to crash the gate of the heavily guarded villa but was turned away. The ambassador, Nikolai Firulin, made a special trip from Belgrade but was not allowed into the conference room even though he protested that he had a very urgent message for President Nasser.

When Tito was informed the ambassador had showed up, he was so irate he ordered him off the island; didn't even tell Nasser there was a message for him. The whole incident was kept very hush-hush. But the big question is: What message was so important that the Russian ambassador had to deliver it immediately? Western diplomats don't know the answer.

STASSEN'S PRIVATE LETTER TO NIXON

Harold Stassen wrote a vigorous two-page private letter to Richard Nixon urging him to step aside in the vice-presidential race, and delivered it to him before he held his dynamite-laden "dumb Dick" press conference. The letter began with a statement that he, Stassen, would have preferred to talk the whole matter over with Nixon, but that since Nixon was not available, he was writing a letter. This column has obtained a copy of the letter.

Nixon, meanwhile, has told friends about his talk with Eisenhower and reported that, according to the President, Stassen mentioned the "dumb Dick" matter to him only "very casually."

He also reported that the President was furious over the whole incident, partly because it focused public attention away from his own homecoming. Instead of people talking about the fine job he had done at Panama, all they talked about was Stassen. This did not set at all well with the President.

After stating that he was sorry Nixon was unable to see him, here are the blunt arguments Stassen wrote the man he wanted to force out of the vice-presidential nomination:

"1.—An Eisenhower-Herter ticket will run at least 6 per cent stronger than an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. This difference is certain to reflect decisively in a number of senatorial and House seats, and may well be the margin of majority or minority in the Congress. Under some circumstances this difference may even be very important in the presidential election itself. This minus 6 per cent has persisted notwithstanding the favorable opportunity for the incumbency of the vice-presidency. The detailed polls show that the negative side is relatively highest among those best informed and among the younger voters. Thus it seems probable that the negative side of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket may increase as the campaign progresses."

"On the other hand, Governor Christian Herter has a lifelong record of effective action reflecting thoroughly the same broad and basic philosophy as that of President Eisenhower in both domestic and foreign policy. He is recognized by those who know him not only in our Republican party but specifically in labor, minorities and independents, for those qualities, plus an integrity and strength of character of the finest standards. Thus he will maintain a very high favorable rating as he becomes better known throughout the nation and he will not subtract on the ticket in any manner from President Eisenhower's own incomparable support."

GREATER CONFIDENCE IN HERTER

"2.—The independent people at home, important portions of the population abroad, and uncommitted nations of the world would have greater confidence in an Eisenhower-Herter ticket. This will improve the prospects of a lasting peace and of success for the United States leadership versus communism. It will also contribute to the future stability and progress of the United States economy."

"I intend to actively endeavor to bring about Governor Christian Herter's nomination for vice-president. I wish to make it clear that I, of course, do not take this action as a personal representative of President Eisenhower. At the same time I am confident that if the Republican national convention nominates Governor Christian Herter for vice-president, President Eisenhower will be pleased to have him on the ticket. My own action is taken to fulfill my duty and responsibility as I see it to the President and to our country and to our Republican party."

"As a first step I have requested those delegates who have asked permission to support my name for vice-president, and those young people who have publicly expressed such support, sincerely, but without talking to me, to instead support Governor Christian Herter. I have told them

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Nation Half Way To Worst Year Of Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The National Safety Council today said 1956 was halfway down the road to becoming the worst year of traffic deaths in the nation's motoring history.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said "almost a miracle" was needed to prevent a greater toll than in 1941 when highway slaughter cut down 39,969 victims. The old record will be eclipsed by about 2,000 deaths if the present rate continues, he warned.

The council's grim outlook came after fatalities during the first half of the year broke a record standing since 1937. In the initial six months of 1956, 18,120 persons died compared with 17,320 during the same period 19 years ago.

Traffic deaths in June maintained the year's record-setting pace, the council said. Deaths totaled 3,400 during the month, erasing the old mark of 3,119 in June, 1952.

Calendar Of Meetings

Circle E of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Juanita McCarty. Each member is urged to attend.

12 Persons Dead As Fire Sweeps Nursing Home

PUXICO, Mo. (U.P.)—Twelve persons burned to death early today when a fire swept a three-story frame nursing home.

One inmate, Mrs. Sherry Fredericks, was saved.

The dead included the operator of the home, Mrs. Bertha Reagan, 55, and her 7-year-old grandson, David Johnson.

Mrs. Fredericks was unable to walk and was carried out a second-story window by the Rev. R. S. Ragsdell, a Methodist minister and Jack Hardy, a filling station operator, who saw the flames and rushed to the home.

Ragsdell said the persons in the house apparently had no chance to escape. He said the flames "shot all over at one time."

All equipment of the local volunteer fire department and fire trucks from communities as far as Poplar Bluff, 35 miles away, helped keep the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Puxico is a town of less than 1,000 persons near the Missouri "bootheel" in the southeast corner of the state near the Tennessee and Arkansas borders.

The dead were: Mrs. Bertha Reagan, 55; David Johnson, 7; Mrs. Harriet Shaffer; Lloyd Rogers; C.

Mobile Inoculation Unit Gives Free Polio Shots in Chicago

CHICAGO (U.P.)—An emergency mobile inoculation unit rolled through Chicago's polio-troubled West Side today, injecting free Salk polio shots in an attempt to throttle the city's polio outbreak.

The early season outbreak of the crippling disease, the worst this year in the nation, concentrated in a 26-square mile area spotted with slums west of the city's downtown section. Fifty-one per cent of this year's cases have been reported in this area.

The total of reported cases in the city this year reached 422 with the addition of 63 new victims during a 72-hour period ending midnight Sunday. The total includes 11 deaths since Jan. 1.

36 Convicts Break Legs with Sledges

BUFORD, Ga. (U.P.)—Prison officials today attempted to learn why more than 30 "hardened" convicts broke their legs with sledge hammers in a demonstration against working conditions at the Rocky Quarry State Prison for incorrigibles here.

State Director of Corrections

Jack Forrester said 36 prisoners, including seven Negroes, used ten pound sledge hammers with rocks serving as anvils as they tried to break their legs in an attempt to escape from the hard work at the quarry.

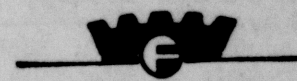

A prison doctor said that all but "four or five" of the prisoners managed to fracture their legs, and at least ten of them suffered from compound breaks.

Burma Reports Chinese Troops In Border Strip

RANGOON, Burma (U.P.)—The Burmese government announced today that "some Chinese troops" had established outposts in its territory along the poorly defined border between the two countries. But it played down reports that Red Chinese forces had invaded its land.

The announcement said the outposts had been set up in Wa state on the border. It also said the Rangoon government has opened negotiations with Peiping over Red Chinese troop movements along a 500-mile strip of northeast Burma.

"While the government of Burma cannot but be seriously concerned over this development," the announcement said, "it is emphasized that the situation is not such as to warrant treatment of it as reported."

Earlier reports said Chinese troops had invaded and occupied the border strip, where no clear boundary line exists between the two countries. The Burmese government announcement said the matter had been brought to the attention of the Peiping government. It said negotiations were proceeding, but did not say how the talks were being conducted.

Salary 'Just Kept Coming,' Hodge Ex-Employee Says

PEORIA, Ill. (U.P.)—A former employee of ex-State Auditor Orville E. Hodge said today she gave him her resignation last May but that her salary "just kept coming" until she left her job Monday.

Mrs. Hazel Poorman, former Republican county chairwoman for Peoria county, said she worked for Hodge for a "couple of years in a part-time job that paid $150 a month for taking inventories of state property."

Mrs. Poorman, who was among a number of Hodge employees who submitted resignations to new Auditor Lloyd Morey Monday, said she told Hodge last May that she was "in ill health and could not go on" in her job.

But she said "the resignation never went into effect" and her salary checks "kept coming."

Atty. and Mrs. Jones attended the graduation exercises, held Friday night.

Mrs. Margaret Thomas, 39, gave birth to a bouncing 7-pound baby boy Sunday night at the Mercy Hospital where she had also given birth to the previous nine children.

Dr. Morgan J. O'Connell, who attended Mrs. Thomas in all the deliveries, said the nine other children are all in good health along with the latest addition to the Thomas family.

Find Evidence Linking Hodge To Racketeers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U.P.)—A county grand jury reconvened today in the Orville E. Hodge million dollar scandal as evidence was turned up linking the ex-state auditor with reputed downstate racketeers.

The evidence was returned here from Granite City late Monday night and turned over to Asst. State's Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman Jr. by two state investigators who searched the files of Hodge's insurance agency.

The records included a note showing Hodge paid $20,000 "on account of enterprise" to Thomas J. Berry on Jan. 30, 1954. Berry, formerly of Belleville, was described as contact man for Frank (Buster) Wortman, East St. Louis gambler.

The investigators also found an unsigned copy of a letter to Berry which was clipped to an Illinois House bill proposing state licensing of coin operated gambling devices.

The letter suggested Berry "might be interested" in the bill, which was later defeated in the legislature.

Also found was a desk phone directory which listed Berry's phone number and those of a number of members of the so-called "west side bloc" of Chicago legislators.

In other correspondence from 1950 and 1951, Berry was described as an "associate or client" of the Hodge agency.

Stassen Opens New Drive in GOP Challenge

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Harold E. Stassen today renewed his dump-Nixon drive with a challenge to Republican party leaders to "punish me if you wish."

Speaking out for the first time since he was given a four-week leave of absence from President Eisenhower's Cabinet, Stassen said he had "expected" to bring down the wrath of the GOP organization leaders on his head when he set out to disrupt their "well-laid plans for a cut and dried convention."

He said he is ready to accept political "punishment," but he will keep on warning his party that Vice President Richard M. Nixon's name "will detract millions of votes" from the GOP ticket this fall.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the National Press Club, Stassen said that in all the "barrage of high level criticism" which fellow Republicans have fired at him, "no one has denied" his basic premise that Nixon would be a liability to the ticket if re-nominated as President Eisenhower's running mate.

Neither, said Stassen, has any GOP leader denied that Stassen's choice for vice president, Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts, is "a man of greater experience and proven ability."

STOCKS NEAR HIGHS FOR 1956

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Stocks forgot the Suez Canal incident today and moved forward to within touching distance of the 1956 highs.

Steel shares with gains running to nearly 3 points led the upturn in industrials. Their average reached a new high since May 4 and came within less than 1 per cent of setting a new all-time record high.

The Mideast oils, recently under pressure on the Suez Canal seizure by Egypt, ran up as much as 4 5/8 points in Gulf.

Noon Dow-Jones averages: Industrials 516.29, up 2.87; rails 169.80, up 0.77; utilities 71.12, up 0.22; 65 stocks 183.15, up 0.91.

Tried to Teach Discipline, Sergeant Says

have been at attention," he testified. "I'd latch onto them, sometimes gave them a slight slap, and tell them to come to attention."

"Little things kept piling up. After the first couple of weeks their spirit and eagerness seemed to leave and they picked up these goof-off bad habits—learned how to sneak a cigarette and take seconds at chow."

Berman asked if he had tried to improve discipline.

"I had 'em at push-ups until they'd grunt gettin' off the deck," McKeon said. "I'd have them do stationary double time."

"The spirit? Was it there?" Berman asked.

"No, sir. It wasn't. Morale wasn't either."

McKeon said that he wanted to have an honor platoon, just as every other drill instructor wanted, but his main concern was with discipline.

"I figured that if they went off this island knowing nothing but discipline, they'd go off having something," he said.

"If you don't have discipline, you have nothing. You can be trained technically, and all that."

"But when you don't have discipline, and the thips are down, the thing will crumble."

Tells of Marches

Asked if his platoon in 1948 ever was taken on marches into the marshes, boondocks, and waters of the depot, McKeon replied:

"Yes, sir, they were—on several occasions, sir."

"By any superior?" Berman asked.

"Yes, sir," McKeon replied. "The drill instructor."

"Were you taken into the water?"

"Yes, sir, we were—on several occasions."

While they were in the water, he said, there was a blast on the squad leader's whistle to indicate an air raid, and all hands had to "hit the deck."

Just before calling McKeon, Berman announced he has asked that Gen. Randolph Pate, commandant of the Marine Corps, be called as a defense witness.

NAACP is Fined $100,000 by Alabama Judge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (U.P.)—An Alabama judge fined the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People $100,000 for contempt of court at midnight but the Negro group asked the state Supreme Court to review the case.

The fine, ordered by Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones, was automatically imposed at midnight when the NAACP failed to comply with Jones' order to the association to turn over to his court a list of its members in Alabama.

The NAACP, fighting to win back its right to operate in Alabama, asked the Alabama Supreme Court late Monday to review Jones' order.

A hearing on the matter was scheduled before the high court at noon EDT today, at which Atty. Gen. John Patterson said the state would "resist with all our power" the NAACP request.

The Supreme Court could overrule Jones and dismiss the contempt charges. But even if it upheld Jones, legal observers said it appears the state could never collect without a legal battle in the NAACP's home state of New York.

The state is seeking the membership lists in its battle to make permanent a temporary injunction ousting the NAACP from the state. But the Negro group maintains such a list would clear the way for "intimidation" of NAACP members.

India's population is growing at the rate of five million per year.

Mrs. Tom Tuttle, 75, Former Eldorado Resident, Dies

Mrs. Ora Ethel Tuttle, 75, widow of Tom Tuttle, former Eldorado resident, died Sunday in Ypsilanti, Mich.

Tuttle, Waldron, Mich.; one stepson, Charles Hudgins, Denver, Colo.; four daughters, Mrs. Beech Hollada, Hammond, Ill., Mrs. Roy Kenny, Fayetteville, N. C., Mrs. Harry Littlefield, Ypsilanti, and Mrs. John R. Laurence of Ypsilanti; two brothers, Frank Corbett of Oscoda, Mich., and Louis Corbett of St. Louis, Mo.; one sister, Mrs. Nora Wombles of Ypsilanti; 25 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

The body will arrive in Eldorado Wednesday morning on the New York Central and be received by the Martin funeral service. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the funeral home and burial will be in Wolf Creek cemetery.

Seek to Avert Aluminum Strike

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Union and management negotiators began today a series of last ditch meetings aimed at averting a strike by 40,000 aluminum workers at midnight.

The walkout would paralyze the Aluminum Co. of America and Reynolds Metals Co., which account for 70 per cent of the nation's aluminum output. It would be the first strike in this important industry in seven years.

Less Fall-Out In New H-Bombs

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Atomic Energy Commission indicated today that new and "cleaner" H-bombs are approaching the production stage.

The indication, confirmed in official quarters, was contained in a cryptic section on "military application" of the AEC's 20th semi-annual report to Congress. The report also noted:

Rapid increases in the family of nuclear weapons, further development of nuclear missile warheads for defense as well as offense, and new record production of nuclear explosives, fuels, and raw materials.

The new H-bombs, on which development progress had previously been disclosed, would generate far less radioactivity than the super bombs now in the stockpile. In war they would poison smaller parts of the planet with deadly fallout.

Such an H-bomb, according to President Eisenhower, would be "more of a military weapon" and less an agent of "mass destruction" than its radiologically dirtier predecessors.

Receives Sentence

Jess Leithliter of this city today received a sentence of eight months on the state farm at Vandalia when he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon his arraignment before County Judge Trafton Dennis. He is charged with chasing a person with an axe.

NOTICE
AMENDMENT

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted on a separate blue ballot to the electors of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 6, 1956.

REVENUE
AMENDMENT
Article IX

Sec. 1. The General Assembly may define and classify property for taxation, but all such definitions and classifications shall be reasonable and be based solely on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or amount of the owner or the amount of number owned. All real estate shall constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may be classified separately. If any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax shall be uniform as to the class.

Sec. 2. The General Assembly may levy or authorize the levy of such other kinds of taxes as it may deem necessary, which shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, but shall not levy or authorize the levy of a graduated income tax.

Sec. 3. The property of the State, counties and other municipal corporations, both real and personal, and such other property, or part thereof, as may be owned by, or held in trust for, agricultural or horticultural societies, non-profit hospitals or schools, religious institutions, cemeteries, or charitable institutions and used exclusively for one or more of such purposes, may be exempted from taxation; but such exemption shall be only by general law. In the assessment of real estate incumbered by public easement, any depreciation occasioned by such easement may be deducted in the valuation of such property. This section shall not deprive the General Assembly of power to classify property for taxation as provided in section 1 of this Article.

Sec. 4. The General Assembly may vest the corporate authorities of cities, towns and villages with power to make local improvements by special assessment, or by special taxation on contiguous property, or otherwise. For all other corporate purposes, all municipal corporations may be vested with authority to levy and collect taxes subject to the restrictions of sections 1 and 2 of this Article.

Sec. 5. The General Assembly shall not impose taxes upon municipal corporations, or the inhabitants or property thereof, for corporate purposes, but shall require the corporate authorities to levy taxes for the payment of liabilities incurred under authority of law. Private property shall not be liable to be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate liabilities of a municipal corporation.

Section 13 of Article 9 of this Constitution is repealed.

Form of Ballot

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitution ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO

SECTIONS 1, 2, 3, 9, and 10 OF

ARTICLE IX AND FOR THE

REPEAL OF SECTION 13 OF

ARTICLE IX

(Revenue Amendment)

Explanation of Amendment

This amendment would revise Section 1 of Article IX of the State Constitution so as to permit the General Assembly to classify property for tax purposes, subject to the following restrictions: (1) the classifications are to be based on the nature and characteristics of the property and not on the nature, characteristics, residence or business of the owner or the amount or number owned; (2) all real estate is to constitute one class, except that lands used for forestry purposes and mineral rights in land may each be classified separately; and (3) if any class of property is taxed by valuation, such tax is to be uniform as to the class.

Other changes are merely routine. This amendment revises Section 3 to require ownership or its equivalent—and not mere use—as a basis for exemption of charitable, religious, and other similar property from taxation. In addition, non-profit hospitals would be added to the list of institutions and purposes for which the General Assembly may grant tax exemption by general law.

Sections 9 and 10 would be revised to subject the taxing powers of cities and other local governments to the same restrictions as apply to the General Assembly. The language in regard to obligations of these governments would be broadened, requiring them to levy taxes not merely—as now—for "debts contracted" but rather for "liabilities incurred."

This amendment would, in addition, repeal obsolete Section 13, which was adopted in 1890 to authorize the corporate authorities of

OFFICE OF THE

SECRETARY OF STATE

I, CHARLES F. CARPENTIER,

Secretary of State of the State of Illinois, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the proposed amendment and the form in which said amendment will appear upon a separate blue ballot at the General Election to be held on the Sixth day of November, A. D. 1956, pursuant to Senate Joint Resolution No. 16, Senate Joint Resolution No. 30, and Senate Joint Resolution No. 32 of the Sixty-ninth General Assembly, the originals of which are on file in this office.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I

hereunto set my hand and affix the Great Seal of the State of Illinois. Done at my office in the Capitol Building, in the city of Springfield, this 10th day of January, A. D. 1956, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and eightieth.

CHARLES F. CARPENTIER,

(SEAL) Secretary of State.

ASSESSMENT LIST

Herewith is a list of personal property assessments as made by the township assessor of Stonefort township and returned to MAYNARD CANNON, County Treasurer and Supervisor of Assessments of Saline County, Illinois.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Saline County Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue. Under Provisions of Section 146 of the Illinois Revenue Act of 1939 as amended in 1945, the Department of Revenue is required to determine the percentage relationship within each county of assessed value and the estimated full, fair, cash value. Upon the basis of such data, the Department is required to raise or lower the total locally assessed values so that all such property will be assessed at its full, fair, cash value.

These equalized values then become the base for tax extension for the 1956 taxes, payable in 1957, and indicate the full, fair cash value of the properties assessed, based on the assessed values as made by the local assessment officials.

This publication, which is made in accordance with section 103 of the Revenue Act, serves as public notice to the taxpayers of the County of assessed values fixed upon their property by the township assessors.

Rotary's Winning
Team is Honored
With a Cake

The Rotary club's weekly meeting was held at the Masonic temple Monday. The club's winning baseball team was honored with a cake baked in the shape of a ball diamond with players made of cardboard placed on it. Each cardboard player had the name of the person who played that position in the game between the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. Some members of the team spoke of future conquests, naming teams which could be possible victims. Entertainment at the meeting was supplied by three young musicians. Philip Dale Richardson of Stonefort played guitar, his sister, Rita Jane, the mandolin, and Phillip Dale Stafford of Harrisburg, the accordion.

The members agreed not to hold the Rotary meeting next Monday, but to accept the invitation of the Kiwanis club to dine with them at their next meeting.

Aaron, Adcock Lead Braves
To 8-6 Win Over Dodgers;
Reds Defeat Pirates, 4-2

By United Press
They're listed on the Milwaukee Braves' roster as Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock but to the Brooklyn Dodgers they're just "Little and Big Poison."
"We could handle those Braves if we could only get those two guys out," is the way Dodger Captain PeeWee Reese sums it up. "But they're just plain poison—they murder us every game."
It was that simple Monday night when the Braves opened their key series with the world champions by scoring an 8-6 victory that preserved their 2-1-2 game National League lead over the Cincinnati Redlegs and pushed the third-place Dodgers five full games off the pace.

Aaron knocked in four runs with a single, double and his 16th homer of the campaign to raise his league-leading average to .342 while Adcock drove in a pair of runs with a homer and a double. Adcock, who is hitting .455 against the Dodgers for the season, has smashed eight homers in the last seven games against them. Ed Mathews also homered for the Braves.

Bob Buhl needed relief help from Ernie Johnson in the eighth inning but received credit for his sixth straight victory of the year over the Dodgers and raised his overall record to 14-4. Johnny Schmitz, Sal Maglie and Robin Roberts are the only other pitchers who have beaten the Dodgers six times in a season during the post-war period.

The second game of the four-game series is scheduled for tonight at Brooklyn's "home away from home" in Jersey City—where they are 4-0 for the year.

The Redlegs completed a sweep of their five-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates when they scored a 4-2 triumph. Gus Bell doubled home the two decisive runs in the third inning with Buster Freeman coming in to relieve Tom Acker and pick up his eighth win of the campaign.

Robin Roberts posted his 11th win and Harvey Haddix his ninth as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 and 4-2, in the only other National League games. The Phillies supported Roberts with a seven-hit attack that included three by Del Ennis and a homer by Stan Lopata. Lopata also had two hits in the nightcap as Haddix fanned eight and pitched a one-hitter for seven innings. The victories enabled the Phillies to take over fifth place.

The New York Yankees opened up a 10-game lead in the American League when they walloped the second-place Cleveland Indians, 13-6. Mickey Mantle drove in six runs with his 33rd and 34th homers to go one game ahead of Babe Ruth's record 1927 pace. Whitey Ford received credit for his 14th victory while Bob Lemon, routed in a seven-run second inning, lost his eighth decision.

Tigers Beat Sox
The victory was the Yankees' sixth straight and 27th in 33 games since they dropped a four-game series to the Chicago White Sox June 22-24.

Virgil Trucks pitched a three-hitter to give the Detroit Tigers a 4-1 win over the Boston Red Sox and Bob Nieman homered in the 10th inning as the Baltimore Orioles shaded the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3, in the other American League games.

Frank House and Jim Small collected three hits each as the Tigers beat Frank Sullivan for the first time in 12 decisions. Mickey Vernon homered to spoil Trucks' bid for a shutout.

Mike Fornieles won his third game for the Orioles, who remained in a fifth-place tie with the Tigers, each with a 44-53 mark.

The head coaching ranks in the seven high schools in the Saline-Gallatin county area are now filled.

'Equality high school filled its vacancy last week with the hiring of Tony Franc to coach basketball and teach the boys physical education.

Franc, a Murray College graduate, has been coaching at Wingo, Ky.

He succeeds "Kayo" Willis, who resigned at Equality to accept the top spot at Carrier Mills. Willis and Franc were classmates at Murray.

A former Harrisburg high school footballer, Howard Edinger, has been named head football and track coach at Gilman high school, it is reported.

Edinger, a graduate of Eastern Illinois College, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Edinger, long time Harrisburg residents while he was manager of the local Brokerage store.

Six well known Illini are scheduled to tour the state during August to distribute posters announcing the 1956 University of Illinois football schedule.

Members of the touring group will be Chuck Flynn, U. of I. public relations director; Hiles Stout, member of the football squad; Gene Vance, director of the Alumni association; Jim Minor, captain of this year's Illini grid team; Chuck Boerio, member of the coaching staff and Rod Hanson, team member.

Among the southern Illinois cities included in the tour are Harrisburg, Eldorado, Marion, Murphysboro, Benton, West Frankfort, Centralia, Mt. Vernon, Du Quoin and others.

The Milwaukee Braves, says The Sporting News, are truly the Cinderella club of the major leagues. In the three-year period, 1953 thru 1955, the Braves outdrew the New York Yankees in attendance, nearly 6,000,000 for the Braves and 4,500,000 for the Yankees. The amazing part of the picture is that the Yankees are situated in an area with nearly 13,000,000 people, while Milwaukee has a population of less than 500,000.

A former St. Louis Browns first baseman, Hank Artt, has gone into the embalming business in Ballwin, a town near St. Louis. It's only natural, says The Sporting News, that he gets ribbed about it. As one wag put it, Artt is well qualified to handle funerals because he went to enough of them as a member of the Browns.

ANGLING IS BIG BUSINESS
With more than 18 million licensed anglers in the country, fishing has become big business, according to The Sporting Goods DEALER, business magazine published at St. Louis.

Annual production figures include: Five million reels, 4,500,000 rods, 13 million lures and 2,925,000 feet of line—enough to reach around the earth 22 times!

For those items and various other tackle items, the nation's anglers spend in excess of 300 million

Bad Umpire Work
Driving Fans from
Parks, Lane Says

NEW YORK —General Manager Frank Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals warned today that "bad work by the umpires is driving fans from the ball parks."

"I'm not an umpire biter—in fact I think it is a crime that a veteran umpire paid less for do-can spoil a whole game. The fans get riled up and the players on both benches start getting on all of the other umpires."

Lane admitted that National League President Warren C. Giles had sent him a long letter in connection with remarks Lane made last week that Umpire Frank Secory "ought to pay to get in to see a game." But he made it plain that he would not be hushed up in his criticism of umpires.

Reds, Pankey's,
Raleigh Win
Kiwanis Games

By David Nelson

The Reds downed the Pirates, 17-10; Pankey's Bakery clobbered Gibbons, 23-3, and Raleigh blanked Walker's Cleaners, 13-0, in Kiwanis baseball league play Monday.

The Reds tallied nine times in the first inning and led all the way in downing the Pirates, 17-10. Pool pitched for the winners and gave up six hits and walked 10 while striking out 10. For the Reds at bat McSparrin had a triple and two singles, Pool homered, Keltner doubled, and Betz, Bowman and Gardner singled once each. Howton doubled and singled, Blades singled twice and Summers and Carson hit safely once for the Pirates. Howton was the losing pitcher.

Pankey's pounded on Gibbons' pitchers for 14 safe hits, while Gibbons and Stunson combined for a one-hitter as Pankey's beat Gibbons, 23-3. Wunderlich had a perfect day at bat for the winners, with five hits in a like number of attempts. Owens, Potter and Barrett had two safeties each for Pankey's. Vick had the lone hit for the losers. Flemming took the loss.

L. Cochran hurled a no-hit shutout and struck out 13 batters as Raleigh defeated Walker's, 13-0. Four runners reached base for Walker's, one on an error and three on walks. The Raleigh team got only four hits off Hodson and Potter but used six errors and seven bases on balls to score 13 times. Woolard, Cochran, Phelps and Harris had the only hits of the game, all singles, but Harris' double.

MURDER

THE STORY: A frightened woman has turned up at Mike Shayne's hotel. She believes her brother had been murdered at the Hibiscus hotel. She found the body, but when she went to call for help the body disappeared.

"LET'S get back to tonight," suggested Shayne. "Of course." She gave her head a little jerk and smiled timidly. "Well, we're at the Roney Plaza. For the past two weeks. And I've been seeing signs. I knew he had some girl on the string, and I'd be taking a hand soon, but—Well, tonight, about 9 o'clock he called me and he was terribly worried and frightened. He said I had to come over right away. To the Hibiscus hotel here in Miami. To room 316. I wrote it down so there wouldn't be any mistake. So I got a taxi to the Hibiscus at once." She paused to swallow hard. "So I went right up to the third floor," she continued in a strained voice, "and to room 316. Light came through the transom, but no one answered when I knocked. I—I knocked three times and called out his name, and then I tried the knob. It wasn't locked. It opened right up. And the first thing I saw was my brother lying on the bed right across the room. He was in his shirt sleeves and his head was rolled up under his head and there was blood. There was a big jagged hole in his throat. I—I knew he was dead. He had to be, Mr. Shayne. His eyes were open and glazed." She put her face down suddenly into her hands and began sobbing.

He said quietly, "The sooner you get on with it, the sooner I may be able to do something."

"I know. Of course." She lifted a tear-wet face and swallowed hard. "I didn't even go into the room. I knew he was dead. I thought of using the phone in the room, but then thought of spoiling fingerprints on it—if they might be clues, you know, and I remembered that when I got off the elevator I'd noticed a door to a lighted room standing open. So I flew down there to ask them to report it, and the door was still open but no one was inside. So I grabbed up that phone and called down to the switchboard and told them. Then I went back. I couldn't have been gone more than two minutes. I know I couldn't. But the door to 316 was shut when I got there—and I know I'd left it open. But the light was still on, and when I tried the knob it opened just as it had before. But he wasn't there any more. He just wasn't. And there was no sign of anything wrong. No coat. No blood. Nothing."

Shayne watched her cry. "The sooner you get on with it, the sooner I can do something. Sure it was the right room?"

"Of course I'm sure. I'd checked the number. So I ran inside and looked in the bathroom and the only closet and I even peeked under the bed. I felt as though I'd gone through the looking glass. Like Alice, you know. And I ran out into the hall and he jumped at me." She stopped, her mouth open and breathing hard as she relived the horror of the moment.

"Some man I didn't recognize," she went on more slowly. "The light in the hallway was dim, but I got one look at his face as he jumped at me. A horrible, scarred face. I whirled around and ran in the opposite direction toward a red signal light showing the stairway and he shouted something I couldn't understand and ran after me.

"I knew he must have murdered my brother and I'd be next. I tore through the door and down three flights of stairs and out to a narrow pitch-dark alley. I ran toward the lighted street with him behind me shouting for me to stop. And just as I got to the street a taxicab came along and I jumped in front of it and made the driver stop. I didn't know what to do and the driver was awfully nice and when I told him a little bit of what happened—he said you could help me and he brought me here."

"Nice of him to recommend me," grunted Shayne. "But why not the police?"

"I was afraid." She shuddered violently and reached for her sherry glass. "I knew they'd laugh at me and say I was crazy. Besides, I knew the hotel would have reported my call to them, and after they'd gone up and then not found any body there after all, they certainly wouldn't listen to me."

HE crossed to the center table, gave a number, and a moment later, said, "Sergeant Jenkins, please. Hi, Sarge. Mike Shayne. You had any report of trouble at the Hibiscus hotel? Any sort of trouble. Murders or any little thing like that?" He listened a moment,

Thinking It Over

Dirty jobs are shunned by people as being disagreeable. We "put off" doing disagreeable pieces of work because we prefer doing pleasant things. When we finally do the disagreeable tasks we find there is a certain satisfaction in accomplishment. However, we do not volunteer to repeat the drudgery day after day.

Scrubbing a dirty floor is one of those bits of drudgery which some people feel is an undesirable chore. This undesirable job is then said slowly, "I see. No, I guess not. Not just yet. If anything does pop, I'll let you know."

He hung up, looking across at the back of the girl's blonde head gleaming in the overhead light, massaging his ear-lobe gently. She turned to look at him with a hopeful expression which died away when he shook his head. He thumbed through the directory for the Hibiscus, called it and asked to be connected with Mr. Patton. Then he said, "Ollie? Mike Shayne. Any trouble at your place around 9:30?"
